Mission Moment

“The lack of drinking water in the home is tiring and disappointing,” explained 28-year-old Carolina Coronado. “During this year, the water pressure of the piped [municipal] system has decreased a lot. We have asked the community authorities for the expansion of drinking water, which hasn’t been possible due to the low water pressure.” To help respond to this challenge in Guatemala, Presbyterian World Service & Development (PWS&D), together with our partner, the Maya-Mam Association of Research and Development, provided water tanks to families in need. Carolina explains: “The water tank will be very useful to me. Now I will be able to continue planting vegetables in my family garden. I am very grateful.”

The Christian Year - We are now in the Season after Epiphany, the third of the six seasons of the Christian Year (the first two being Advent and Christmas). The Season after Epiphany begins on January 7 (the day after Epiphany), and lasts until Lent (which begins on Ash Wednesday). Since the date of Ash Wednesday changes each year, the length of the Season after Epiphany also varies.

This season is properly called the Season after Epiphany, not the Season of Epiphany. It’s a season of “ordinary time”, which means it has no particular focus or theme (unlike Advent or Easter, for example). The symbolic color for this season is green (signifying life), the color for ordinary time.

However, the first and last Sundays of this season do have a special focus: the First Sunday after Epiphany commemorates Jesus’ baptism, and the Last Sunday after Epiphany commemorates his transfiguration. On both of these Sundays, the theme is the revelation of Jesus’ true identity as the Son of God, which continues the theme of Epiphany itself (the “manifestation” of Jesus to the world). The symbolic color for both of these Sundays is white, signifying joy and celebration.

Our sympathy - We extend our sympathy to Wilma Shirriff and family in the death of Wilma's sister, Anne Teghtmeyer, on January 6.

Proverb of the Week - (from "Announcements Sheet", 10 October, 2021)

Fools show their annoyance at once, but the prudent overlook an insult. (Proverbs 12.16)
